GOING UP STAIRS

to offer specials for Friday and Saturday this week. The first floor is being rearranged, some departments moved over into the new addition, others being enlarged, so that we're not quite in shape to take care of more than the ordinary business down there. The second, third and fourth floors are all right though, and we've sought out some items that may interest you. Don't climb the stairs—the elevator is the quicker and easier route.

SUITS, SKIRTS, JACKETS AND CAPES.

A special price on each of the above named garments, and we know you'll recognize a superiority in them unknown to many others higher priced elsewhere.

Fine tailored suits, made of imported venetian cloth. Blouse jacket, silk lined throughout, and made with large flaring collar. Latest cut skirt. All colors. A certain sure saving of $3.90 on every suit you buy Friday or Saturday at $14.85.

Heavy double faced cloth walking skirts, medium or dark oxford, all the proper lengths, and heavily stitched around the bottom, $4.98.

Ladies' 28-inch silk lined box coat, in castor, brown, gray, tan or black. A handsomely tailored garment with large flaring collar and lapels—$9.95.

Children's all wool fancy plaid golf capes, made with the new shaped hood and large collar, trimmed with fringe. Sizes 4 to 10 years. A very special value at $2.98.

BOYS' CLOTHING.

Your boy's clothes should look as well and fit as well as his father's. No reason for buying misfits, when carefully tailored garments, made of the best wearing textures are to be had for the same money in many instances less than you pay for shoddy.

Have you visited our clothing department? If not, come Friday or Saturday and ask to see the 50c boys' short trousers we're going to sell for 39c.

They're made of fancy mixtures and plain blue and black chevrons. Not one kind to choose from, but many. Sizes from 3 years to 16.

Every pair is warranted not to rip. They have double seats and double knees. The buttons are riveted on.

Specialty of the boys' department is the two-piece all wool suits at $2.98.

Russian blouse suits and overcoats $5.98 to $7.98.

ROOM SIZE RUGS.

They diffuse unexampled charm in the plainest room, and are becoming more popular with the masses every day. We have them in every good weave and in all sizes; also new and exquisite patterns in carpets with borders to match, which we can make up to fit any room.

Large Axminster Rugs—extra fine quality, size 9x12—$20.00.

Body Brussels Rugs, size 9x12—$22.50.

Lowell Royal Wilton Rugs, the best made, size 9x12—$32.50.

Others include Smyrnas, Byzantine, Cashmere Brussels, etc., etc.

Funeral of Mrs. Bartels.

The funeral of Mrs. William Bartels took place from her late home on South Eoff street, yesterday afternoon. The officiating was in charge of the Rev.
Herman Haas, of St. Paul's German church, who spoke of the many noble and amiable traits of the deceased. The services were witnessed by a large concourse of friends and relatives of the deceased. There were many and beautiful floral testimonials. Interment was at Mt. Zion. The pall-bearers were August Fisher, Charles Norton, August Wheeler, Henry Rose,
Louis Riedel and John Pebler.

MR. M'KELVEY
TELLS OF THE DAYS OF 1856

When to be a Republican Was Not Even Considered Respectable
in This Section.

HORN BROOK HALL THE PLACE

Where the Fremonters Met—Moral and Physical Courage to Vote
the Ticket.

Hon. A. T. McKelvey, of St. Clairsville, one of Belmont county's most distinguished citizens, writes for the Intelligencer some interesting reminiscences of the early days of Republicanism in Wheeling, which will be read with enjoyment, especially by the older readers of the paper. Mr. McKelvey is very well known in Wheeling, having been manager of the Wheeling office of the Western Union Telegraph Company during the civil war, where for two years the headquarters of the Army of West Virginia was located. All of the important messages relating to the military plans and movements of McClellan's first campaign and subsequent campaigns in West Virginia were either transmitted from or repeated at this office. In 1880 Mr. McKelvey represented Belmont county in the Ohio general assembly.

Says Mr. McKelvey:
"I have read with much interest the recollections of Mr. Atkinson, which appeared in a recent issue of the Intelligencer of the historic Fremont campaign in 1856 on the soil of 'Old Virginia,' and it calls vividly to my mind the political, social and business ostracism to which the Republicans of Wheeling in those exciting days were subjected and in which, as a boy, I shared.

"The original Republican club of your city was composed of such men as Thomas and Jacob Hornbrook, S. H. Woodward, Col. Joseph Thoburn, Isalah Cooper, Isaac Chesley, James Wilson and W. P. McKelvey. There were perhaps, a few others whose names have escaped me.

"These were the men of strong anti-slavery convictions and pronounced opposition to the pro-slavery principles of the Democratic party of that day that would meet weekly in Hornbrook's hall for counsel and support.

"Horace Greeley was their patron saint and the New York Tribune was their political bible. When the mails were closed against the Tribune in Virginia, friends in Bridgeport, Ohio, received their package of papers and delivered it to them by hand, and thus this little band of political reformers were established in their faith and encouraged in their principles, notwithstanding the shameful abuse and ridicule to which they were subjected.

"All of these grand old reformers, with the exception of Mr. James Wilson, have been mustered out, but the party they organized in Wheeling in 1856 to-day controls the destiny of the mountain state.

"It might be interesting to the active Republicans of your city to-day to know something of the abuses and scorn to which the Fremont club, of Virginia, was subjected. The members of that organization were spitefully called 'black Republicans,' 'woolly heads,' and 'nigger worshippers.' Their business was not patronized, their organization was ridiculed and their families subjected to social ostracism.

"On election day the eleven or twelve that had the courage to vote viva voce for Fremont and Dayton were hissed and ridiculed, while a few were 'egged' and stoned.

"These were the political martyrs that organized the club that in 1860 cast 700 votes for Lincoln, and stood an insurmountable barrier to the hosts of secession.

A. T. M'KELVEY."

W. J. BODLEY DEAD.

Well Known Citizen Passed Into the Great Beyond Yesterday.

Yesterday morning at 4:53 o'clock, at the city hospital, occurred the death of William Joshua Bodley, after an illness of only five days. Deceased was in the fifty-sixth year of his age. Mrs. Bodley, wife of the deceased returned yesterday from Greene county, Pa., where she attended the funeral of her father.

Mr. Bodley was born in Wheeling, in 1845. His father was James Bodley, one of the pioneer citizens of Wheeling. Deceased learned the brick-laying trade when quite young and followed that trade all his life up until a few years ago, when he retired, after having amassed a fortune sufficient to maintain him the remainder of his life. He had considerable property in this city and the last years of his life were devoted to these.

Mr. Bodley was known throughout the city as a man with many noble and amiable traits and these endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He fought in the Union army during the Civil war as a private in Battery H, First West Virginia Infantry. He was married November 3, 1874, to Miss Clara H. Hawkins, of Greene county, Pa. He was a life-long Republican, though he took no part in political affairs of the city. He is survived by a widow and two children, Miss Ora and Harry J.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, at 1517 Jacob street, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will occur at Greenwood cemetery.

ALREADY BEARING FRUIT.

A Sick Colored Man From Mann-ington Sent Back—Officers to Meet Incoming Trains, to Carry Out Action of Health Board.

The recent action of the health officer and board of health is already bearing good fruit. Yesterday morning Mr. T.
C. Burke, Baltimore & Ohio ticket agent, having read in the Intelligencer
of the health board's action, telephoned the health officer that a sick colored man had just come in from Marion county on the morning train. Dr. Jepson at once visited the station, the mayor at his request, accompanying him. Although the man was not thought to have an infectious disease,
he confessed to having been recently one of the gang of workmen on the Short Line Railroad, where so many cases of smallpox now exist.

He was sent back to Mannington,
where he contracted his illness, and a note was sent to the Marion county authorities, requesting them to care for their own poor and sick. Each county can easily do this, and Wheeling does not propose to accommodate all the needy sick of the state, whether infected or not.

At the suggestion of the health officer,
Mayor Sweeney and Chief of Police Clemans agreed to have an officer present at all incoming trains, and all cases similar to the one referred to will be immediately returned to the place from which they started.
